While The Heiress of Linn Hagh (and the 2nd book, The Sans Pareil Mystery) don't quite hit those thresholds, they both deserve 5 stars in their own right. Charlton wrote not one excellent mystery, but two. They are, by far, among the top 5 mysteries I've read in the past few years, and I highly recommend them to anyone who enjoys mystery books.

In the twelve months that Knox Robinson Publishing owned 'The Heiress of Linn Hagh' they priced the eBook at $12 and only sold 38 copies. I regained my publishing rights last Christmas and self-published 'Heiress' in February, priced at a more sensible $2.99. For the first two months, I made a handful of sales.

The Heiress Of Linn Hagh (Detective Lavender) Karen ...
Northumberland, 1809: A beautiful young heiress disappears from her locked bedchamber at Linn Hagh. The local constables are baffled and the townsfolk cry "witchcraft". The heiress' uncle summons help from Detective Lavender and his assistant, Constable Woods, who face one of their most challenging cases: The servants and local gypsies aren't talking, Helen's siblings are uncooperative, and the sullen local farmers are about to take the law into their own hands.
